W: 21.5" D: 21.5" H: 31.0"

This magnificent frosted glass light fixture is a rare French Art Deco chandelier signed by David Guéron of Verrerie d'Art Degué in Paris. A studio renowned for luxury glassware and fabulous chandeliers, Degué was operational for only a brief period spanning 1926-1939 and their art glass products have become highly valued by collectors and lovers of the Art Deco style.

FRENCH DECO CHANDELIER SIGNED BY DEGUÉ

Four bell-shaped side shades extend past the main body on narrow, scroll-form arms, each wired with a single socket. Each shade is intricately molded in the Art Deco style with matching designs of bold florals and eccentric geometric patterns.

From the collection of Frances and Gary Comer.
