THREE DRAWER TABLE

$7,880

Materials, Northern Elmwood • Collection #BJEE109

W: 72.75" D: 16.75" H: 33.75"

A Qing dynasty artisan constructed this elm wood table in China's Shandong province over 150 years ago. Its understated simple & elegant form is true to the Ming style of design. Several noteworthy details make it stand out as a fine collectible piece of furniture: the drawer frames have beveled edges, the top is a single plank of elm finished with subtle rounded corners and a sophisticated channel running around the perimeter. This table's proportions are slightly larger and unusual for a storage table of that era.
