HARDWOOD DRUM STOOL

$2,480

Early 20th Century • China • Hardwood • Collection #CSCY001C

H: 18.0" Dia: 17.0"

The stool is a central fixture of Chinese furniture culture. Found in a variety of materials and forms, the stool transcends class lines, as much at home in the provincial courtyard as it is in the grand hall of a wealthy estate. Whether worked from fine hardwood or cobbled together from wood scraps, the ever-practical stool finds its place in all corners of the home.

This gorgeous hardwood stool is shaped in a traditional drum form first popularized during the Song dynasty (960-1279). The stool features a rounded seat and five legs that bow outwards to match the curved shape of a drum, each carved with archaic dragon scrollwork. Continued...

HARDWOOD DRUM STOOL

A band of imitation boss-head nails rings the seat like those used to stretch hide across an actual drum. Darkened with a warm, red-brown stain, the stool beautifully showcases the tight grain of its hardwood construction and elevates its surroundings with quiet elegance.
