CRAZED CELADON GINGER JAR

$680

Late 20th Century • Southern China, China • Celadon • Collection #CCDB009A

H: 13.5" Dia: 9.75"

This round lidded vessel has a simple baluster jar form and a subdued celadon glaze finished with a richly crazed texture. Master ceramic artists in Zhejiang beautifully recreate the distinctive crackle glaze of traditional Guan and Ge ware, allowing a network of lines to flow over the vase's high shoulders and round body. Marked by imperfections, the jar has a unique texture and sculptural presence that recalls finely worked stone.
