With no stretchers or spandrels, this elegantly simple low table forms one beautiful, continuous ribbon, with legs ending in delicate scrolled feet. Concealed mortise-and-tenon joinery enhance the elmwood table's clean lines, finished with layer upon layer of dark lacquer. Each of the table's four drawers bears brass hardware formed with fish and bat motifs, symbols of happiness, longevity, and harmony. Expertly crafted over one hundred years ago, this sculptural table is right at home today in a traditional or modern setting.
