LOBI ANIMAL STOOL

$600

c. 1900 • Ghana • Wood • Collection #CBH005

W: 7.25" D: 12.25" H: 6.75"

The stools created by the Lobi people of Ghana and Burkina Faso are wonderfully simple in form. Each is traditionally carved from a single block of wood with minimal decorative elements. This low stool is carved in the form of a herd animal, with a rounded body and a protruding head and tail to double as stout handles. The stool's beautifully smoothed surface texture has become richly aged over years of use, and textured chisel notches add a sense of movement to this stoic sculptural object.
