W: 45.0" D: 18.0" H: 36.5"

These antique French side cabinets, or meubles d'appui, are wonderful examples of the French Provincial and Louis XV styles. Dated to the late 18th century, the low cabinets are beautifully shaped with curvilinear forms throughout, from the curved top to the s-form legs. Each cabinet sits on four short cabriole legs ending in whorl feet and finished with a beaded edge that flows onto the scalloped apron. The two front doors are each carved with a delicate cartouche of quadrilobe shape and open to reveal a single interior shelf. Continued...
