SUKHOTHAI BRONZE BUDDHA FRAGMENT

$1,780

c. 1850 • Thailand • Bronze • Collection #CCDB007

W: 3.5" D: 2.5" H: 10.5"

Once ornately gilt and painted, this fragment of a serene bronze Buddha was created in Thailand in the mid-19th century. Cast in the older Sukhothai style, the Buddha bears a flame-like spike stretching upward from the crown of his head. Called an ushnisha, the spike signifies wisdom and the spiritual power of the Buddha's enlightenment. Separated from its seated body, the figure was likely subject to corrosion when ritually deposited within a stupa, a Buddhist reliquary designed as a representation of the universe. Continued...
